Italian energy storage system rises

Overview

Italy's energy storage landscape is undergoing a major shift, with utility-scale battery energy storage systems (BESS) experiencing exponential growth in 2024, even as residential and commercial & industrial (C&I) installations decline, according to a new report.

"The expectation is that by 2030 almost 20 billion euros will be invested in accumulation technologies in Italy, and we want to play a leading role in this transformation," says Julian Nebreda, CEO of Fluence-multinational active in 50 countries, 15 of which in Europe. Fluence is the result of a

While the development of bigger battery energy storage systems (BESS) is booming, deployment of residential and commercial and industrial (C&I) equipment fell last year. The "Storage systems observatory" report published by Italian electronic industry body Anie states more energy storage capacity.

Rome, April 2025 - In a bold move to meet its EU-mandated greenhouse gas emissions targets, Italy is accelerating its renewable energy strategy under the Integrated National Energy and Climate Plan (PNIEC Italy). The government has set ambitious goals for increasing renewable energy on the national.

Let's unpack this electrifying trend: Italy added a staggering 1.05 GW/2.63 GWh of energy storage systems in the first half of 2024 alone, marking a 24.6% year-on-year growth in installations [1] [5]. With regions like Lombardy leading at 1,454 MWh of deployed storage, the country isn't just.
